

Life Change UK Training Programmes

Background

The reduction of DWP benefits and the engagement of NEETs (including offenders and other socially marginalised groups) are high government priorities.

Managing Challenging Behaviour and addressing issues surrounding social and educational inclusion, anti-social behaviour, recidivism, substance misuse and care services are making ever increasing demands upon staffs working in the field.

Critically, understanding and managing such behaviour is rarely included as part of the core syllabi of professional training. Many teachers, trainers and other professionals in the field often experience considerable stress and anxiety in their normal daily work, resulting in students, offenders and other marginalised groups failing to be engaged and motivated to change. The Life Change UK training addresses many of these issues.
